STRIKERS KILL SCORE AT HERRIN, ILL.

Strip Mine of Southern Illinois Company Scene of Furious Battle For Hours.

Herrin, Ill., June 22.—A check-up at noon today, showed twenty-six known dead and indication that the total would be more than thirty in the hostilities between striking union miners and employees of the strip mines of the Southern Illinois Coal Company, near here.

Herrin, Ill., June 21.—Darkness tonight compelled cessation of hostilities between striking union miners and employees of the Southern Illinois Coal company strip mine near here, after hours of fighting in which thousands of shots were exchanged. One union miner is known to have been killed.

Reports were current that twelve to fifteen employees of the strip mine were killed, but these could not be verified because of the confusion at the camp.

Two union miners were wounded seriously and about six others were wounded slightly. Three mine guards were reported wounded seriously. Three thousand persons, many armed, were rushing to the camp and the confusion made it impossible to check up the casualties reported suffered by the Southern Illinois company's employees.

The body of one union miner has been brought to a local hospital and two other men believed to be sympathizers were brought to a hospital here, where it is said, one of them is not expected to live.

The report was to the effect that fourteen or fifteen bodies of the non-union men were laying in the pit of the surface mine where they had barricaded themselves and exchanged numerous shots with the attacking miners who, with sympathizers and curiosity seekers, were said to total nearly 1,500.

Jordon Henderson, about 45 years old, a striking union miner, was shot in the head and killed. His body was brought here by unidentified persons. The wounded men are Joe Pichovle, a Lithuanian, who is seriously injured; and James Morris, believed to be union miners from Johnson City, near here.

Shooting Begins

Shortly before the shooting began here late today three of ten men, on route here to work in the Strip mine, are known to have been shot just outside of Carbondale. One of the ten escaped injury, and the other six swam a creek and were fired on. They have not been accounted for. Charles Boyd, the man who escaped declared they had been fired on by at least seventy-five men.

The scene of the rioting resembled a veritable battle field. The strip mine, being a surface colliery, allowing the employees to entrench themselves behind the piles of coal on the ground waiting to be loaded on to cars.

The striking miners said to number more than 1,000 surrounded the camp, shooting from all sides and open warfare was conducted for several hours.

The bullets spat with machine gun regularity.

The trouble followed an indignation meeting held near Herrin today following publication of a telegram from John Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, that the workmen at the strip mines, who are members of the shovelmen's union, were common strike breakers. Mr. Lewis' telegram added that the shovelmen's union had been outlawed by the American Federation of Labor.

After firing had continued for more than one hour the strip mine employees raised a flag of truce, and when a "runner" from the union force was sent across the line he was shot in the ankle.

Hostilities were then renewed with greater vigor and later when the strip miners again raised a white flag the signal was ignored. Darkness finally brought the shooting to an end, as it apparently was, feared the shots would be misdirected and the fighters would wound their own men.

SIMMERMAN—BARNHILL

The many local friends of Miss Winale Davis Simmerman, of this city, and Mr. Roy Barnhill, of Madisonville, were pleasantly surprised when it became known that the popular young couple had been married on last Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the Hartford Methodist parsonage, Rev. T. T. Frazer, the pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Barnhill is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Leo Simmerman and granddaughter of Capt. James W. Ford, of this city. She is a graduate of Ward-Belmont College Nashville, Tenn., and, a most estimable young lady, popular in a large circle of friends.

Mr. Barnhill is a son of Mrs. Grace Barnhill, of Madisonville, and is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. At present he holds a very lucrative position with the Swift Packing Co., with headquarters at Madisonville. He is a young man of sterling worth and has brilliant prospects for success.

The happy young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short motor trip. They will make their home either in Hartford or Madisonville after a more extended honeymoon in the East when Mr. Barnhill obtains his vacation later in the summer.

The Herald joins the many other friends of Mr. and Mrs. Barnhill in wishing for them the utmost wedded happiness.

HAMILTON—BALLARD

Miss Ruesta Ethel Hamilton and Mr. Everett Ballard were united in marriage in Owensboro, last Thursday.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hamilton, of near Rough River Locks, and is an attractive and accomplished young lady. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Ballard and before entering the army to participate in the World War he was one of the county's most efficient school teachers. In the army he rose to the rank of Lieutenant. Since his discharge he has held the position of managing director of the Louisville Boy Scouts. However, he has resigned this position and will accept a position as traveling salesman for a Louisville firm. He obtained his education here and at the Normal School in Bowling Green.

The many Ohio County friends of the couple wish them continued happiness and prosperity throughout their wedded career.

VEHICULAR ACCIDENTS

A taxi belonging to Chester Peters, of Beaver Dam, and in which he had been driving some negroes, Sunday evening, was standing near the Hartford Motor Company's garage in Hartford, when one of the negroes tried to start it but, not knowing the modus operandi, drove it backwards through Albert Rial's yard fence and against the house tearing off a strip of weatherboarding and knocking down some rose bushes.

As Mr. Robert Vance was driving up to a car near the depot, with a load of coal, Monday evening, his team became frightened at a passing train and ran the wagon into the loaded wagon of Mr. W. A. Morris, demolishing a wheel of the latter vehicle. No other damage is reported.

A car driven by an unknown party ran into the buggy of Mr. James Shown, of near this city, Saturday afternoon, badly damaging a wheel of the buggy, and slightly injuring Mr. Shown's little daughter. The accident occurred on Clay Street, in this city.

Mr. J. N. Schapmire, of Normal, Ill., spent from Monday until Saturday of last week as the guest of his father, Mr. C. F. Schapmire, and other relatives here. He was accompanied home by his father who will remain with him for several days. Young Mr. Schapmire has a lucrative position with the Chicago & Alton R.R. in the Illinois city.

PROHIBITION ACT OF LEGISLATURE CONSTITUTIONAL

Law is Upheld By Court of Appeals on Every Point Attacked in Petition.

Frankfort, June 23.—The court of appeals today denied Matt Lake a writ of prohibition to prevent the county judge of Madison county trying him on a charge of violating the Raft-Gullion prohibition act passed at the 1922 session of the general assembly. Lake had attacked the constitutionality of the question was discussed in a voluminous opinion written by Judge Moorman and concurred in by the whole court reversing the action of the Fayette circuit court which had held that Paul E. Shipley could not bring suit against J. Walker Rhodes and T. C. Bradley, former sheriffs of Fayette county.

The opinion affects many counties throughout the state in which sheriffs have been receiving more than $3,000 a year in salary from fees. Officials here say it will save the state and counties many thousands of dollars annually. The case was the outgrowth of agitation for saving money to the state and counties and is backed by farmers organizations throughout the state. During the last legislature an effort was made to pass a bill introduced by James Park of Madison county, limiting salaries by statute and providing penalties for failure to observe the section of the constitution that limits all salaries except that of the governor to $5,000. The bill passed the house, but did not pass the senate.

No Special Jurisdiction

The petition also alleged that the legislature was trying to usurp the powers of the courts by providing a peace bond. This the court held was within the jurisdiction of the legislature and the peace bond merely was a means in insuring the prevention of future crime.

Excess Fees Go To Counties

The allegation that the law gave some courts of the same class jurisdiction while withholding it from others, was held by the court to be untrue. All courts of the same class are given the same jurisdiction, the court said. The law gives Justice of the peace, police and county courts jurisdiction to try liquor law violation cases.

The allegation that the law is unconstitutional because it provides for trial of "indictable" offense in police, justice and county courts where juries of six persons instead of twelve are allowed was overthrown by the court with the statement that so long as a jury trial is assured to a defendant it makes no difference whether the jury contains six or twelve persons.

WILLIAM BURTON

News of the death of William Burton, the sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Burton, 1218 S. Allen street, was received in Owensboro last night. The young man died at the Jewish hospital in Louisville, where he had been taken last Monday. Young Burton was a student in the Owensboro High school last year and was taken ill during commencement week. A transfusion of blood in the Louisville hospital failed to prolong his life. The funeral arrangements have not been made, though the body will be brought back to Owensboro for burial. —Owensboro Messenger.

SHERIFFS IN KENTUCKY CAN'T DRAW OVER $5,000

Appellate Court Says Pay of Deputies Subject to Approval Of Fiscal Court.

Frankfort, Ky., June 23.—All fees in excess of $5,000 and the salary of necessary deputies and assistants collected by sheriffs of Kentucky must be turned into county treasuries and go to the payment of the cost of the county government.

The question was discussed in a voluminous opinion written by Judge Moorman and concurred in by the whole court reversing the action of the Fayette circuit court which had held that Paul E. Shipley could not bring suit against J. Walker Rhodes and T. C. Bradley, former sheriffs of Fayette county.

EVEN BREAK FOR HARTFORD IN WEEK-END SESSIONS

Hartford and Rob Roy tried conclusions at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon before a sprinkling of faithful fans. The game was rather sanguine but nevertheless close enough to be interesting, the final tally being 8 to 6 in favor of the locals. Rob Roy's battery was in a somewhat plastic state, but in a final analysis it ussed at least 75 per cent Hallie Monroe, Felix, Westerfield and Glenn were on the points for Hartford.

On Sunday afternoon at the local park the Hartford lads again stacked up against the high-powered Morgantown team in their third mutual encounter of the season. The result was "of a sameness," but not so much so the Butler County boys winning 8 to 3. Hartford got off to a bad start in the first frame, the whole team being apparently somewhat "jumpy," but as the game progressed their improvement was marked. However a victory was hardly to be hoped for as Morgan town has one of the most efficient base ball clubs seen in action in this section for many a day. And its individual members and their supporters made a good impression by their gentlemanly conduct.

Gus Leach twirled for the visitors and Hammers did the receiving. Tinsley and Tilenn tolled for the local lads. The features from the standpolic of Hartford were the home run of Glenn Tinsley and the all-around playing of John Taylor. The power with the stick getting three hits out of four times up and registering one of Hartford's tallies, besides holding down third in masterly style. The other Hartford marksmen were chalked up by his co-star G. Tinsley.

DEATH CLAIMS JOHN W. YERKES

Danville, Ky., June 23.—John W. Yerkes, United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue in 1900-10, died here today. He recently underwent an operation, rallied, but suffered a relapse yesterday. His condition rapidly grew worse.

Mr. Yerkes was a widely known figure in Republican circles. He once was Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky but was defeated by Governor J. C. W. Beckham. Since his return to Danville, in 1916, he had been practicing law.

He had been a member of the board of trustees of Centre college, Danville, for more than twenty years and for a year past had been its acting president.

He also was a member of the faculty of the law school of Georgetown University at Washington.

His immediate family consists of his widow, a daughter, Miss Anna, and a son, Lovel Yerkes, Birmingham, Alabama.

Mr. Yerkes was born at Lexington, Kentucky, April 1, 1854. He was the son of Rev. Stephen Yerkes, D. D., a minister in the Presbyterian church.

He graduated at Centre college, Kentucky, 1873, when he received the degree of A. B., and in 1876 that of A. M. After leaving college he entered on the study of law at law department of the University of Michigan and was graduated there in 1877, receiving the degree of L. L. B.

He was president of the state commercial and industrial convention held at Louisville and was a commissioner to the Columbian and Atlanta expositions. He was appointed collector of internal revenue for the Eighth district of Kentucky, by President McKinley, who, in December 1900, appointed him commissioner of internal revenue at Washington, D. C. which position he continued to hold under President Roosevelt.

Mr. Yerkes was chairman of the Republican state committee of Kentucky from 1891 until 1896.

He was three times elected member of the Republican national committee from Kentucky.

In 1900 Mr. Yerkes was nominated for governor and was defeated by only 3,500 votes.

BAPTIST MISSION BOARD HOLDS MEETING HERE

The mission board of the Ohio County Baptist Association met in regular session at the Baptist Church here, Monday at 10 a. m. Several matters of business were attended to. The following were in attendance: Rev. A. N. Morris, and

Mr. Jake Wilson, Fordsville; Mr. E. E. Rogers, Beaver Dam; Mr. H. H. Crowder, Horse Branch; Messrs. W. L. Iglesias and Alvin Ross, Centertown; Rev. Oscar Ashby and Rev. M. G. Snell, of near McHenry; Rev. G. E. Fuqua, of Russell Walker and Messrs. James C. Bennett and W. M. Fair, of Hartford; and Mr. Sam Holbrook, of Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Pirtle, who have been guests of Mr. Pirtle's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Pirtle, for several days, will leave here Friday, for Frankfort to visit Mr. Pirtle's sister, Mrs. Vernon Ligon, and Mr. Ligon before returning to their home in Detroit, Michigan.

Miss Cleon Genung, registered nurse, who attended the late Mrs. James H. Poston in her recent fatal illness and had been visiting Mrs. W. H. Barnes and Mrs. Anna J. Bennett since, returned to her home in Louisville Friday.

RUSSIA STANDS FIRM AS HAGUE PARLEY OPENS

The Hague, June 15.—The conference which is to consider Russian affairs was called to order in the Peace Palace this afternoon by the Dutch Foreign Minister, H. A. Van Kernebeek. Sixty delegates, representing about thirty countries, were present.

All sessions will be absolutely secret, it was announced. Even the representatives of the world press were denied admission to the peace palace.

The visiting delegates appeared to be helpless in the situation. Many of them expressed annoyance over the attitude of the Dutch Government which as host apparently decided to exert every effort to avoid publicity.

The Hague, June 15.—All Europe centered its hopes today on the opening of the international conference which is dedicated to the task of making practical arrangements for the re-entry of Russia into the concert of nations.

The at least temporary failure of the efforts at Paris to organize an international loan for the restoration of Germany has undoubtedly served to augment the pessimism obtaining in many countries concerning the prospects of making definite agreements with communistic Russia on such vital matters as credits, the treatment to be accorded to property held by foreigners and the payment of the Russian debts.

Nevertheless, determination was evident among the delegates gathered here for the preliminary meetings to make every conceivable effort to reach the results which the Genoa conference did not succeed in achieving.

The representatives of the principal countries, excepting Russia, were scheduled to assemble in the peace palace this afternoon and study the programme to be presented by the Russian delegation at the joint meetings to open on June 26.

OAK GROVE

June 18.—Sunday School is progressing nicely at this place.

Several from this community attended quarterly meeting at Narrows, Thursday.

Miss Dimple Westerfield and Mr. Earl Harrison were Sunday guests of Misses Ellen and Ozora Boswell.

Mrs. Sarah Boswell visited relatives in Centertown and Hartford, last week.

Misses Katy Turnum and Minnie Gentry were guests of Miss Gertie Mae Blacklock, from Saturday afternoon until Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Claude Quisenberry and baby, of Hopkinsville, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gaither. She is visiting her sister, Mrs. Elsie Green at Millwood, this week.

Mrs. Foster Thomas entertained a few children Wednesday afternoon, it being her daughter's sixth birthday. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed the occasion.

Mrs. Maud McClellan and baby are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shultz.

DRAFT OF NEW IRISH CONSTITUTION MADE PUBLIC ON EVE OF ELECTION

London, June 15.—The draft of the new Irish constitution, made public tonight, on the eve of the Irish elections, gives as the document states, force of law to the Anglo-Irish treaty and expressly declares that any provision of the constitution or any amendment thereto, or any law enacted under the constitution, which is in any respect repugnant to the treaty, shall be void and inoperative.

This constitution embodies connection with the British crown, as already established in the treaty, and generally places the relations between Ireland and the empire on the same basis as Canada and the other dominions.

The constitution requires every member of the Free State parliament to subscribe faith and allegiance to the constitution and swear to be faithful to the king in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland and Great Britain and Ireland membership in the British commonwealth of nations.

The document contains seventy-nine articles and is considered an up-to-date instrument, not only granting female suffrage, proportional representation and a referendum to the people, but also empowering the people themselves to initiate legislation. It gives to the chamber great power with respect to money bills without control from the senate, thus duplicating the position as between the British house of commons and the house of lords.

It exempts the Free State from active participation in war without the consent of parliament, except in the case of actual invasion and gives the Irish supreme court the fullest powers, only stipulating for the right of citizens to appeal to the king in council against the supreme court's decision.

It provides for freedom of religion and conscience, gives Free State citizens full protection against the arbitrary power of court martial, and extends to parliament exclusive control over the armed forces, as stipulated in the treaty.

DEGREE AWARDED

REV. R. B. GRIDER

The Rev. R. B. Grider, presiding elder of the Louisville district of the Southern Methodist Church, has been awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity by the Kentucky Wesleyan College at Winchester. Dr. Grider was a visitor at the college during the commencement program when the degree was conferred upon him. One other was also awarded.

Rev. Grider delivered the commencement address for Hartford High School this year.

1479 TEACHERS GET PAPERS

Frankfort, Ky., June 15.—Out of 3,047 applicants who took the elementary teachers' examinations in May, 1,568, more than half of them, failed. It was announced today by the Department of Education. First class certificates were awarded to 394 and second class to 1,025. The June examinations for State and elementary certificates starts tomorrow.

ERIN TREATY MEN SEE EASY MARGIN

Dublin, June 17.—Lacking definite announcement of the elections yesterday for the new Dail Eireann, the results of which are not expected to be known before Tuesday, the estimate is hazarded in some quarters that the Republicans will have forty representatives in the new Dail, that the group which represented the pro-treaty sentiment in the old Dail will have sixty members, while the newcomers will number twenty-eight.

If all the newcomers support the treaty, the likelihood of which has been pointed out, it would give the Free State forces a working majority on the treaty issue. The Republicans, however, do not expect the division will follow these lines and prefer to regard the new parliament as likely to consist of 100 old Sinn Fein members against twenty-eight not attached to that party organization.

They say that the Coalition Cabinet therefore is safe against attack on any policy advanced by the combined Sinn Fein wings. The Coalition Cabinet is expected to focus its attention on administration and the Ulster problem.

The de Valera-Collins pact provides for a fresh election if the Coalition cannot carry on, the new election to be based on universal adult suffrage.

DEMPSAY MAY MEET JESS ON LABOR DAY

Los Angeles, Calif., June 15.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion pugilist, may meet Jess Willard, from whom he won the title, in a return match next Labor Day. Jack Kearns, manager of the cham-

Washington, June 14.—Proposals of Henry Ford to reduce coal rates on his railroad, the Detroit, Toledo, and Ironton, which originally were suspended by the Interstate Commerce commission were allowed to go into effect today under a final decision of the commission.

15 INJURED WHEN CARS LEAP DOWN EMBANKMENT

Mineola, Tex., June 14.—Two rear sleeping cars on the Sunshine Special, the Texas & Pacific train duo in Dallas at 2:05 o'clock this afternoon, jumped the track at Lake Fort, nine miles east of here today, injuring fifteen persons, some of them seriously. The coaches plunged down a twenty-five-foot embankment and turned over.

FARM EXTRACTS

INFORMATION FROM THE EXPERIMENT STATION — AGRICULTURAL PAPERS AND THE COUNTY AGENTS OFFICE

Hogs Don't Sweat—Must Have Shade

Hogs are non-sweating animals and unless they are provided with protection in the form of shade or water for wallowing purposes, they suffer heavily from heat during the hot summer months, livestock men say. Many farmers are using concrete wallowing tanks successfully in keeping their animals cool while others have found shade to be the most practical form of relief on their farms. In either case, it is necessary to provide the animals with plenty of clear drinking water in order to keep down the suffering from heat most effectively.

If there are no trees in the pasture to provide shade, a good shelter from the sun may be constructed by setting short posts in the ground and building a roof of light boards over these. The boards should be nailed down to prevent their being blown away by the wind. If the owner wishes the building for permanent shade, rafters can be set up and the structure made more complete.

A shed-roof type of building 14 feet long and five and one-half feet high in front sloping down to three and one-half feet high in the rear has given satisfactory results on the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm, swine specialists of the station say. No sides are put on the building as free circulation of air is desired.

When concrete wallowing tanks are used in keeping hogs cool, a small amount of oil should be placed in the water to keep the animals free from lice. Care should be taken to see that wallows of all kinds are kept clean.

Many Leased Farms Stress Need Of Better Contracts

More than one-third of the farms in Kentucky are operated by tenants, according to the 1920 census. Leasing contracts under which many of these farms are operated point out the need in the State for more general use of contracts which will keep the land up in productivity and at the same time enable the tenant to make a fair profit and the landlord a fair rate of return, according to W. D. Nicholls, head of the farm economics department of the College of Agriculture.

One type of successful leasing contract is that which includes the joint ownership of hogs, beef or dairy cattle, sheep and other productive livestock. The tenant furnishes all the labor and, in most cases, the work stock and machinery. The landlord usually pays the service fees and owes a one-half interest in the colts. Poultry, up to a reasonable point, are owned by the tenant who gets the proceeds from the enterprise.

The other net receipts are divided equally. The landlord furnishes the land and buildings, pays the taxes and insurance on them. In most cases furnishes the grass seed and pays one-half the other expenses excepting those for labor. Necessary minor repairs on fences usually are made by the tenant without charge, the landlord furnishing the materials.

Quite often, the tenant does not have sufficient capital or credit to finance his half of the cattle, hogs or other productive livestock. Some Kentucky landlords have supplied this capital, securing it by taking a mortgage on the livestock and permitting repayment out of the tenant's share of the proceeds. When the tenant is an able, energetic and reliable man, this is an excellent plan and serves the interest of both parties. The tenant thus is encouraged to do his best and often will remain on the farm for several years.

"For several years, the college farm economics department has been making a study of leasing contracts and has succeeded in working out a number based largely on the successful experiences of Kentucky landlords and tenants. Copies of these may be obtained free by writing the department."

Cowpeas Supply Big Needs Of Poor Soils

The cowpea is one of the best crops that can be grown to supply nitrogen and organic matter, the two things needed most by poor soils of Kentucky, soils and crops specialists of the College of Agriculture say. Unlike other legumes, such as alfalfa and clover, the peas make a fair growth on poor, sour soils without either limestone or other fertilizers although a light application of limestone and some phosphate fertilizer helps them make a better growth. The peas are especially valuable as a soil improvement; crop because they may be seeded by being broadcasted and therefore need no cultivation.

In using the peas for soil improvement, many farmers seed them as a catch crop after wheat, oats or rye. Seeded at this late date, the crop makes considerable vine growth which is valuable for forage and fertility but which would hardly be sufficient to mature seed. On other farms, the peas are seeded with success in the corn at the last cultivation, a bushel of seed an acre being sufficient in this case. Some farmers drill the peas in rows between the corn, this method requiring less seed and therefore being advisable when seed prices are high.

The nitrogen gathered by a ton of peas is worth about $8 on the basis of the commercial cost of nitrogen, the specialists point out. Also the hay obtained from the peas is satisfactory feed for all classes of livestock. When the manure resulting from the feeding of the peas is returned to the soil, 20 to 30 pounds of additional nitrogen is added for each ton of peas grown.

Drainage Of Farm Lands Getting Added Attention

With the decrease in the cost of tile, Kentucky farmers this year have shown more interest in the drainage of their fields than they have in any one of the past three or four years, according to Earl G. Welch, farm engineering specialist of the College of Agriculture. In line with this marked interest twelve demonstrations have been arranged by the college extension division on as many farms in eight different counties of the State to point out the value of drainage to interested persons, he said.

Warren, Madison, Rockcastle and Carroll counties each have two such demonstrations while Muhlenberg, Hurt, Webster and Jefferson counties each have one. Additional demonstrations probably will be arranged in co-operation with farmers in other counties in the near future.

"It is impossible to bring soil up to the highest state of fertility without good drainage," Mr. Welch pointed out in speaking of the projects. "When land is poorly drained at all, every quality necessary for a fertile soil is either wholly or partially destroyed. Poor drainage lowers the availability of all the plant food elements by preventing the proper circulation of air through the soil and prevents good structure characterized by the 'crumbiness' that is necessary for easy working of the soil and the development of plant root systems. It also prevents the proper decomposition of organic matter and the consequent formation of compounds of nitrogen and other elements which are available as plant food."

"Leaving, or freezing out of winter crops, also is favored by poor drainage. If poorly drained land has a slope, it washes more soil that has good under drainage for the obvious reason that more water must be carried away by surface drainage. Many sloping lands have poor under drainage. A striking characteristic of poorly drained soil is a tight, whitish or grayish subsoil, often containing brown or rust colored spots. The installation of tile drainage is the only remedy that can be applied to such soils."

Big Causes Of Loss In Stock Shipments Found At Points Of Shipping

Heavy losses resulting each summer from injury, death and shrinkage in shipments of livestock are caused largely by improper methods of banding the animals at shipping points, marketing specialists at the College of Agriculture say. Anything which adds to the comfort of animals in transit diminishes the danger of losses, their suggestions on shipping point out.

"Before having animals placed in them, ears should be cleaned carefully and bedded with sand or some other similar bedding, the use of these being preferable to straw, sawdust and shavings," D. O. Card, one of the specialists said. "Stock will reach the market in better condition if fed the usual amount of dry feed instead of being fed excessively just before shipping. Claws, whips and poles should be eliminated as far as possible in loading animals as the use of these causes bruises, and a consequent loss of meat."

"About twenty-two 1,000-pound steers may be loaded safely in a standard 36-foot car," he said. Danger of losses may be reduced by partitioning off bulls, vicious animals with horns, calves and cows with calves. Cattle fed on dry feed a day or two previous to shipment will reach market in better condition than those allowed to fill up on water and grass.

From 80 to 100 hogs depending upon their size may be shipped in a single deck standard 36-foot car, from 16,000 to 17,000 pounds making a good carload in hot weather. In summer the bedding for hogs should be drenched thoroughly with water and in extremely hot weather, from 500 to 800 pounds of ice should be broken up and placed on the floor of the car or hung up in sacks. It is best to give them dry feed before shipping instead of filling them with water and swill as is often the case.

From 125 to 150 lambs may be loaded safely in a single deck standard 36-foot car.

Bob-White An Enemy Of Corn Rootworm

The bob-white eats the adults or beetles of the corn rootworm which lay the eggs that later become larvae or worms and infest the corn. As many as 12 of the beetles, according to the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture, have been found in the stomach of one bobwhite. The redheaded woodpecker, nighthawk, cardinal, Kingbird, and phoebe also eat the beetles and reduce the damage done by the Southern corn rootworm.

WOMAN IS NAMED FOR SENATE IN PRIMARY

St. Paul, June 20.—A woman has been nominated for United States Senator by a major political party for the first time in the history of the country.

This became apparent tonight when returns from half the precincts participating in Monday's primary election showed Mrs. Anna Dickie Olesen had captured the Senatorial nomination of the Democratic party from two male opponents.

Washington, June 20.—Jubilation and rejoicing prevailed among the Old Guard politicians today because of the ease with which Senator Hale captured the Senate primaries and Kellogg made the home plate in Minnesota.

It was greeted as a great triumph for the Administration and an endorsement of all policies thus far proposed by the Republicans.

The only person not absorbing hope and encouragement today was Senator McCumber, whose primaries are held a week from tomorrow. All the advices coming in from North Dakota are to the effect that McCumber is imperiled beyond the possibility of extrication.

It is said former Governor Frazer will win easily, retiring McCumber to private life after twenty-four years in the Senate.

CERALVO

June 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones are visiting relatives at Oblon, Tennessee.

Delma Lee Everley, of Herrin, Ill., visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Everley, last week.

Mr. Newt Baxter has moved to the Iler farm.

Miss Electro Everley and little brother, Kendal, of the Masonic Home, Louisville, are spending their vacation here.

Little Miss Mattie Edwards Roberson, of Pond Run, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Wood.

Mrs. Nettie Williams, near here, went to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Ora Williams, of Beaver, who was quite ill and has since died.

Mrs. Robert Danks, of Nelson, spent Sunday with Mrs. Ida Barnard.

Misses Orr and Cora Everley returned from Bowling Green last week after spending a few days with their sister, Miss Mary Ethel Everley, who is attending school there.

Mr. Hazel Morton Everley, who received a painful injury to his hand in the mines, recently, reports that it is better.

Mrs. L. P. Fulkerston, Mrs. R. E. Endale and Mrs. Emma Fulkerston attended the Eastern Star at Rockport, last Thursday night.

They'd Met

Church was over, and the congregation filed slowly out and gathered in little chattering groups in the yard. Presently the pastor came up and joined one of the parties. He introduced an ex-goh, recently arrived in the village, to a wealthy Mr. Smith.

"But thou, you must have seen each other in church today," he concluded.

"Sure, beamed the ex-goh cordially. "He was sleepin' in the next bunk to mine."—American Legion Weekly.

JUDGE STOUT, A DEMOCRAT

The Hartford Republican, in its last issue, in a manner reminiscent of its windmill-fighting during the dog-days of last year's campaign, threw a familiar fit of frenzied partisanship over the new Kentucky general registration law. Its spleen over what it tries to make its bennymen think is an effort at disfranchisement is laughable in its childishness. As for our contemporary's slur at Judge Robert L. Stout, one of Kentucky's ablest and most farsighted jurists, one would conclude that it is trying to out-Lasser Lisker. Apparently, in its estimation, the most conclusive argument over a question of fact is a plea in confession and avoidance. "This or that may be true, but your grandfather was the Kaiser's best friend" or "a Democrat—declared the law must stand." But "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." Four years ago last full several thousand Democrats really were disfranchised in Ohio County, as the result of a state law, interpreted by Judge Slack, a REPUBLICAN. Apparently it is all right for the whole Democratic party of Ohio County to be disfranchised by a technicality, but when a few members of both parties are faced by possible temporary denial of suffrage on account of illness, which might occur on election day as well as on registration day, a horrid howl of "unfairness" goes up from the Republican ranks.

Perhaps the registration law is imperfect, but in its essential elements it is a step toward fairer elections. Its provisions apply alike to both parties and no class of voters is unfairly discriminated against. Its only object is the elimination of corruption from our politics and such a result should be welcomed by all good citizens. As Judge Chas. A. Hardin aptly puts it: "Any organization which puts itself on record as opposing electoral machinery which insures pure elections is doomed to fail."

As to expense, the Republican's statement is misleading. The registration this year may cost $2,400 but a large percentage of the registration equipment is permanent, the magnitude of the registering process will be much less in succeeding years and as a result the cost will not be a third of the Republican's figures.

A little inconvenience and expense should weigh little against the ultimate safeguarding of that palladium of democracy, the unhampered exercise of the right of suffrage.

TO VISIT MEXICO

Mr. Murfin Philip Sheridan, electrician for the Hoit Coal Co., at McHenry, applied to the Secretary of State at Washington, D. C., for passports to Mexico for himself, wife and child. He was in this city last Wednesday for the purpose of having County Clerk Guy Ranney assist in preparing his application. They will leave soon after July 1st.

Rev. Oscar Ashby, of Centertown, N. F., No. 2, was a pleasant caller at this office Tuesday.

DELBERT WHITTAKER MEETS TRAGIC DEATH IN RIVER

Delbert Whittaker was drowned at 6 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, at Rochester, while bathing in Green River. A boat was passing at the time and it is not definitely known whether the waves from the craft or cramps caused his death. After dredging the river for two hours the body was found. His age was 18 years, 8 months and 3 days.

The youth was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Whittaker, of the Barnett's Creek vicinity and had only recently moved to Rochester, where they opened a bathing beach and restaurant for the season. He attended Hartford High School during the year 1920-21 and was well known here. He was a member of Barnett's Creek Baptist Church and a splendid young man. He is survived by his parents, wife, three brothers and one sister.

Rev. Russell Walker, pastor of Hartford Baptist Church, conducted funeral services at Mt. Hermon Methodist Church, Thursday afternoon. The body was laid to rest in the church cemetery. An immense congregation was present at both services, and there were many beautiful floral offerings. The surviving relatives have the most profound sympathy of his many friends both here and in the home community.

THOMAS - WEISBECKER

Miss Arlie Marian Thomas, and Mr. John G. Weisbecker, both of Louisville, were united in marriage at the St. Louis Bertrand Catholic Church, of that city, Tuesday morning the 20th. inst. at 8 o'clock, Rev. Father Lyons officiating. After the ceremony the young couple repaired with their attendants and a small party of friends to the home of the bride where a wedding breakfast was served. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Weisbecker left for a two weeks' bridal trip in the North. They will reside in Louisville.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Thomas, who formerly resided in Hartford and in Narrows, and is an attractive and popular young lady. She but recently completed her freshman year in the University of Louisville. Mr. Weisbecker is a young man of sterling worth, and flattering prospects. He recently completed an enlistment service with the U. S. Navy.

We, join the many other friends of the young couple in wishing them the utmost wedded happiness.

GERMAN FOREIGN MINISTER VICTIM OF ASSASSINS

Berlin, June 24.—Dr. Walter Rathenau, Foreign Secretary in the German Cabinet and one of the foremost economic experts in Germany, was assassinated here today.
Dr. Rathenau was on his way to his office in an automobile when he met his death. Another car, occupied by three men, drove up rapidly from behind, overtaking the Foreign Secretary's machine. As it drew abreast the men opened fire, discharging ten shots from pistols.
One of the occupants of the murderer's car threw a hand grenade.

Dr. Rathenau was killed instantly. It had been reported at first that there was only one assassin.
The assassin escaped.

Great Fourth of July CELEBRATION IDEAL THEATER BEAVER DAM, KY.

Offers you a chance to see one of the best pictures screened.

Said to be the Greatest Picture Made by the world's greatest master of picture making, D. W. Griffith, who produced "Intolerance," "Birth of a Nation," "Hearts of the World," "Broken Blossoms," and others.

There is hardly a man, woman or child who has not read or listened to this historical event with the most intense interest, scarcely thinking it possible that they would ever be able to see it on the screen. The tale is of a far gone day, but through the powerful fury of barbaric warfare, the bewildering superstition and political intrigue, runs a brilliant thread of story, made up of love and romance, of the hate and passion of human nature as we know and understand it to-day. It is the love story of all time, brought out by Mr. Griffith as the love of a little mountain girl for Prince Belshazzar, and of Belshazzar's love for his Princess beloved,

"The Fall of Babylon" as a spectacle is one of the most tremendous ever conceived. It stirs the imagination, attacks the emotions and staggers the eye.

PEACE LOOMS FOR CHINA AS SUN IS TAKEN

Downfall of Canton Government Seen As Removal of Last Barrier to Harmony.

Peking, June 21.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, formerly president of the South China Republic, has been taken prisoner by the United China forces and is being held captive on the Chinese cruiser Hai-chi in the West River near Canton, according to advices received by the foreign legations here from Canton.

President Li Yuan-hung today declared he was prepared to invite Sun Yat Sen to Peking to help in the reunification and reconstruction of the country.

Sun May Tour Globe

In this connection President Li said: "Sun Yat Sen once declared he intended to tour foreign countries as soon as constitutional government was restored in China. That object has been attained and the time has come for Sun to start. It he cannot realize his purpose I will welcome him to Peking. I see no reason why he should not sit at the same table with me and discuss China's future."

The president declared he had offered the premiership to Wu Ting-fang, but that he had received no reply so far.

Canton Regime at End

He asserted that China, with the prospect of the old Republican Parliament convening, has now before her the greatest opportunity since the Republic was founded.

So far as Peking is concerned, the Canton Government is at an end.

The fall of the Southern Government, according to President Li, was due to the increasing desire of Southwest China for unification and end of civil strife. The chief executive said that the provinces of Szechuan, Hunan, Kwelchow, Kiang-si and Yunnan had been inclined to reuniting the North but had been prevented from carrying out their purpose by Sun Yat Sen.

GENERALS SIGN ARMISTICE

No Provision Made for Return of Rolling Stock

Tienin, China, June 21.—Representatives of Chang Tsao Lin, defeated war lord of Manchuria, and Wu Pei-fu, his conqueror, signed an armistice at Chihliantao today. The negotiations were begun last week aboard a British warship there.

The terms of the armistice do not appear to have made any definite provision for the return of the railroad locomotives and cars seized and run into Manchuria by Chang Tsao Lin.

Chang carried off the greater part of the Peking & Mukden Railway's equipment, the last train leaving Shantung consisting of three locomotives and two cars.

Shortage of locomotives has prevented resumption of the railroad's normal schedule and the people are looking to the foreign legations to take up the matter energetically and insist on the return of the looted rolling stock.

PERFORM OPERATION ON GORMANDIZING ROOSTER

The enterprising correspondent of The Times at Hickman sends in the following amazing item, which may serve as a warning to poultry fanciers not to allow soy beans to be about where the chickens can get at them:

To relieve the intense suffering and save the life of a very fine White Rock rooster, worth $25, Mrs. J. W. Mayes of this city, assisted by her husband, made an inch and a half incision in the rooster's craw and removed therefrom 857 soy beans. Mrs. Mayes, who is president of the Fulton County Poultry Association and raised very fine chickens, discovered the rooster sick and the next day hurriedly had the craw swollen to enormous size. Picking the chicken up, she found the craw stretched to such an extent and so thin that they could see the soy beans through the skin. Mrs. Mayes bad read in her poultry literature where similar operations had been made, and her husband with knife made an inch and half incision in the rooster's craw. The beans, from the moisture and warmth of the body, had swollen so that they had to be dug out with a knife, and Mr. Mayes as he removed them laid them out in lots of 100 each, and to his utter amazement found the rooster had swallowed 857. These beans are about the size of a small pea and used for hog food. He had a lot of them on the back porch, and this was where the rooster had gotten 'em. After the operation they took five stitches in the craw with silk thread and then took five stitches in the outer skin with silk thread, using iodine as a disinfectant. The rooster made no attempt to struggle during the operation, seeming so grateful for the relief, the only noticeable effect being a twitching of his legs when they applied the iodine. The rooster was then put in a coop where he could be fed soft food and cared for, and is now well and out among the other chickens, apparently none the worse for his very unusual experience.—Louisville Times.

BONUS SHELFED

FOR TARIFF BILL

Washington, June 20.—Thorny off shoots of the bonus question thrust themselves into Senatorial equanimity with such vigor this evening that nerves hardly were equal to the ordeal of voting—as the Chamber did, finally, after divers approaching outright disorder—to take up the bonus question as soon as the tariff is out of the way.

That is, the Senate will not allow the tariff to be dislodged from the bonus unless the bonus dislodges the tariff which can be done at most any time by a majority vote. Only eight Senators voted against the proposition, fifty-two of varying shades of opinion agreeing to the makeshift.

To get the straight of the bonus resolution, as it was adopted after a general uproar, here is the language:—"unless sooner taken up and disposed of, the Bonus Bill he and hereby is made the special order immediately following the third reading and vote on the tariff."

This came to pass at dusk descended upon a day that began with the voting down, 51 to 22, of a motion by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts to bring up the bonus for immediate consideration.

DAILY MAJORITY

FAVORS TREATY

Dublin, June 20.—The results of the elections are still incomplete and final figures in some of the important constituencies will not be announced until Wednesday.

The de Valera members, whose seats in the Dail are endangered, include Catahi Prugh (Charles Burgess), former Minister of Defense, and Seamus Robinson, two of the leaders of the dissident section of the army.

Including all the uncontested seats, the results are known in the case of 100 members. Of these the pro-treaty panel won thirty on contest which with seventeen uncontested seats, gives a total up to the present of forty-seven.

The anti-treaty panel survived the contest in thirteen seats, which added to seventeen uncontested gives this side thirty.

Ten labor men, all pro-treaty, are returned. Nine pro-treaty independents have also been returned and there are four representatives unopposed from Trinity College, who formerly belonged to the Unionist party, but now support the treaty.

Of the first hundred, therefore, there are on the treaty issue seventy members of the new Dail in its favor and thirty against it.

"No, by heck, I ain't, cap'n," came back the outraged rookie warmly. "I'm my own boss in this here army. Why, when I enlisted, they made it perfectly clear to me that I was goin' to be a private soldier." —American Legion Weekly.

FIGHT LAW FOR PURE ELECTIONS

Judge Chas. A. Hardin Expresses Amazement at the Course of Republican Organization.

Republican action to test the new Registration Law, expected to be initiated in the Franklin Circuit Court today, was interpreted as a fear of clean elections by Judge Chas. A. Hardin, Chairman of the Democratic State Central & Executive Committees.

"It is passing strange," said Judge Hardin, "that a duly organized political body would institute a suit to test a law that seeks to purify elections. The registration law has for its sole purpose clean elections. It contains no partisan provisions whatever. It imposes exactly the same conditions on all political parties, playing no favorites."

It struck the Democratic leadership that any party which is afraid of this law must object to clean elections.

I am amazed that the Republican party would put itself on record as fighting a law designed to bring an honest election. The only criticisms of the law that I have heard were that it would cause inconvenience or cost something for its administration. No one of responsibility has accused it of being partisan. Anyone who reads it can see that it can't be used by either organization in a selfish way. Any organization which puts itself on record as opposing electoral machinery which insures pure elections is doomed to fail.

Under the State-wide registration law no longer the groups of repeaters can be swung from poll to poll; from county to county; from State to State in border counties, to create artificial and corrupt majorities. No longer can the transients and families who are not entitled to vote secure the privilege through corrupt election officers. No longer can the corruptionist, by use of unlimited corruption funds, be effective as under the old law. No longer can the unnaturalized citizen vote in the mining camps of Kentucky. The registration law is not for the benefit of either party but to bring about clean and pure elections.

In my opinion this law is one of the most progressive laws ever enacted by the Legislature in our State. It renders possible the enactment of all progressive laws which are concurred in by the majority opinion of the electorate, and thereby secures a foundation of justice consistent with Democratic principle and the certain support of the people.—Evening Post—June 16, 1922.

FLIES—DESTROY THEM BEFORE THEY DESTROY YOU

Fly Facts

1. The house fly is a carrier of disease.

2. It breeds in filth, chiefly in barnyard manure and outhouses.

3. It takes only about ten days from the time the egg is laid until the mature fly is born.

4. There are four steps necessary in the transformation from the egg to the fly. They are: the egg, the maggot, the pupa, the fly.

5. The fly spreads disease by carrying infection on his legs and wings and also by "fly specks."

6. The diseases which may be carried by flies are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, cholera, dysentery and "summer complaint."

7. The descendants of one wintered female fly will reach 5,598-720,000,000 in the period from April 15th, to September 10th.

8. As a general rule flies do not travel more than a quarter of a mile from their breeding place.

9. The average life of a fly is about three weeks.

10. A few flies hibernate during the winter in crevices of any warm wall paper and the wall.

11. Small flies are not to be regarded as the young of the larger flies. They belong to another species.

12. The blood-sucking stable fly often bites, but house flies do not.

Methods of Combating Flies

I. Take the Offensive—The first and best mode to attack is to take the offensive before the enemy appears.

II. Clean-up Campaign—Clean up every ten days. Clean up the breeding places of the fly. Flies breed in filth, the chief source being barnyard refuse. It must not be forgotten that other forms of waste-paper, garbage, tin cans—make excellent breeding places. The sanitary status of any community is determined by the abundance or scarcity of house flies.

III. Swat the Early Fly—Don't forget to kill the wintered-over fly. Kill these flies early. Remember that one fly which winters over becomes the ancestor of one bushel of flies before fall.

IV. Trap the Fly—Later in the season use screens, swatters, traps, fly paper and poison to check the increase of the pest.

V. Fly Killers—See Extension Service Brieflet No. 97.

Fly Killers

A cheap and perfectly reliable fly poison, one which is not dangerous to human life is chromate of potassium in solution. Dissolve one dram, which can be bought at any drug store, in two ounces of water, and add a little sugar. Put some of this solution in shallow dishes and distribute them about the house.

One of the best fly killers that can be used in the home is a tea-spoon of formalin in a quart of a pint of water. When this is exposed in a room it will be sufficient to kill all flies. They seem to be fond of the water. CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN TO PLACE IT BEYOND THE REACH OF CHILDREN.

A little sugar added to the above makes it especially attractive to the flies.

To quickly clean a room where there are many flies, burn pyrethrum powder. This only stupefies the flies so they fall to the floor, so care must be taken to sweep them up and burn them immediately.

Home-made sticky fly paper may easily be prepared by boiling two pounds of resin in a pint of castor oil until the resin is dissolved. This may be spread on heavy paper and placed throughout the house. The preparation may be put away until needed and can be applied with a brush.

Ointments and Sprays to Keep Flies From Cattle

(Any of the following must be applied frequently, as few will keep flies away for more than day or two following their application):

1 pound rancid lard

½ pint kerosene

Mix until creamy mass forms. Applied with cloth or with bare hand. Rub thinly over the backs of the cows.

3 parts fish oil

1 part kerosene

Apply with small spray pump.

2 parts crude cottonseed oil, or fish oil,

1 pint tar

Apply with large paint brush. Treatment of Manure to Prevent Breeding of Flies

Sprinkle 3-6 pounds of horax over pile with a sifter then pour over it two or three gallons of water. This amount of horax is sufficient to treat ten cubic feet or eight bushels manure.

Returned, Approved

He was just a raw country boy, but a fortnight's experience in New York with city girls had taught him something.

One evening he drifted down to a dance in Greenwich Village, where the wildest and the wooliest are supposed to hold forth. He drew a bobbed-haired sweetie for a partner and she lost no time in impressing on him her modernity of ideas.

"I suppose," she suggested, idly fingering her cigarette, "that you would be shocked if I told you I believed in free love?"

"Now, that's where you and me are right together," he responded heartily. "I'm darnation sick of layin' out good hard-earned cash for candy an' flowers."

Only Circumstantial

Following a dinner of savants, a certain professor of psychology thought he would test a colored cloak attendant as to his memory. Although the professor pretended to have mislaid his check the boy without hesitation handed him the right hat.

"How did you know this one is mine?" asked the learned man.

"Ah don't know dat, suh."

"Then why do you give it to me?" "Cause you give it to me when you come in, suh."

Roderick Lean Cutmore Mower

Hay Making Simplified With Standard Fordson Equipment

YOU cannot afford to lose time in the haying season. There are few sections where the weather at haying time is always ideal. That is the one time of year when speed is the essence of good farming. It is no uncommon happening for some farmers to lose several tons of hay by a delay in getting it off the ground.

This work is now speeded up by using the Fordson with the RODERICK LEAN CUTMORE MOWER. The CUTMORE is attached direct to the tractor between the front and rear wheels in the position where the driver can have perfect control over it. The power is taken from the worm gear that drives the rear wheels, so it is always even and dependable.

The CUTMORE makes hay cutting with the Fordson a one-man job. There is ample power for cutting the heaviest crops, including alfalfa, clover, vetch, velvet beans, pea hay and lespedeza.

RADIO

HOW AMATEUR CAN BUILD A RECEIVER

Instructions for Setting Up the Antenna and for Assembling the Tuner.

In order to pick up sufficient energy with the simple radio receiving set it is necessary to connect one terminal to an antenna consisting of one or more wires suspended in the air and insulated from all grounded material and the other terminal to a ground usually the water supply pipe. The height of an antenna used with a small receiver should not be less than 30 feet. As the received energy varies directly as the height of an antenna, the higher the antenna the louder will be the signals or voices produced. The length of an antenna for short wave reception should not be less than 50 feet nor should it be longer than 200 feet. The minimum wavelength to which a simple receiver can be adjusted for electrical resonance will be above that used by amateurs if the receiver be connected to an antenna 200 feet or more in length.

A simple radiophone receiver capable of picking up radiophone stations similar to KDKA at East Pittsburgh, can be assembled by a novice for from $4 to $15, depending upon the builder's ability to use his hands.

If the builder will construct most of his apparatus he will appreciate it much more and probably will understand more about its operation than if he buys a set already made. However, for those who have not the ability or the time to spend constructing their own apparatus the following description will not only give the details as to the construction of each component part of a receiver but also what standard ready-made parts can be purchased and used in its stead.

The material can be purchased at any electrical supply store.

In erecting a simple antenna for use with the receiver shown in the diagram, the antenna proper and the lead-in are of stranded hard-drawn copper wire, strand No. 22, costing about 1 cent per foot. The two insulators are of molded material and can be purchased for about 25 cents each. The antenna shown is supported between a house and a pole. It may be found more convenient to support it between a tree and a house, two houses or even between two chimneys on the same house. In bringing down the lead-in care should be taken that it is kept as far away from grounded material as possible and when bringing through the wall or under the window into the house it should be brought through some sort of an insulating tube, such as rubber or bakelite.

In making the ground connection the same kind of wire can be used as was purchased for the antenna. You can clean a section of the water pipe thoroughly and solder the ground wire to it.

MAKING THE TUNER

To make a tuner for this receiver, the following raw material will be required:

piece of cardboard tubing three inches outside diameter and five inches long, costing about 10 cents.

100-foot No. 22 double cotton-covered magnet wire costing 25 cents.

Standard slider (see sketch) for  $\frac{1}{4}$  by  $\frac{1}{8}$  brass rod, 40 cents.

1 six-inch length of  $\frac{1}{4}$  by  $\frac{1}{8}$  brass rod (square) 20 cents.

2 binding posts (see sketch) 20 cents.

2 circular blocks of wood whose diameter is just equal to the inside diameter of the piece of cardboard tubing and between 3-8 and 1-2 inch thick.

Some shellac or varnish is also required.

TIPS TO THE RADIOIST

A crystal detector cannot be satisfactorily amplified.

Insulate ends of aerial wires with several small insulators.

Wherever possible run aerial wires at right angles to electric light wires.

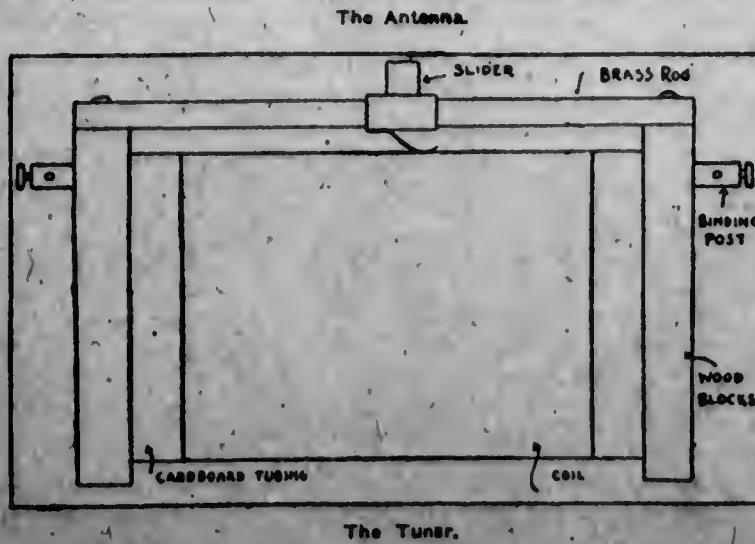

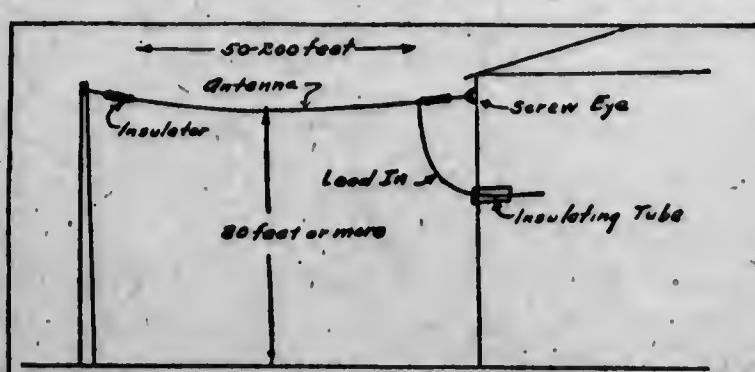

The lead wire should be the size of the combined number of wires in the aerial.

Gas piping makes a poor ground, but the cold water pipe ground is excellent.

A crystal detector is never as efficient as a vacuum tube detector no matter what instruments are connected to it.

Within three to five miles from a broadcasting station indoor one wire aerials about 40 feet long stretched from room to room, are generally satisfactory with crystal detectors.

Some shellac or varnish is also required.

RAIL STRIKE FOR JULY 1 LOOMING

WHISKY WORTH $20,000 FOUND IN 'POTATO' CAR

Savannah, Ga., June 17.—Federal Prohibition officers today seized a quantity of bottled whisky in a car on the tracks of the Seaboard Air Line Railway. The car was labeled potatoes and was to have been dispatched today to Jersey City, N. J. It contained about $20,000 worth of liquor and a few sacks of potatoes.

Cincinnati, June 17.—Withdrawal of wage reductions ordered by the railroad labor board and the taking back by railroads of contracts farming out shop work only can avert the threatened strike of approximately 1,000,000 workers on July 1, rail union executives said tonight.

The leaders declared complete strike plans have been approved. The triple barreled strike vote of seven unions so far returned was announced by union leaders as being 98 per cent in favor of a walkout. However, leaders said, they did not expect the final vote to reach more than 95 per cent.

FLATTERED THE MINISTER

An amazing anecdote in Lord Frederic Hallion's "Days Before Yesterday" concerns a fresh draft of Gordon Highlanders, who shortly after arriving at Calcutta were marched to service at St. Andrew's church.

The most optimistic mosquito had never imagined such a succulent banquet as that afforded by 400 bare-kneed, kilted Highlanders, and the mosquitoes made the fullest use of their opportunity. Soon the church resounded with the vigorous clapping of hands on bare knees and legs as the men endeavored to kill a few of their little tormentors.

Hearing the loud clapping, the minister paused and said: "My brethren, it is very gratifying to me to hear of the word to learn that his remarks meet with the approbation of his hearers; but I'd have you to remember that applause is strictly out of place in the house of God. —Youth's Companion."

Hail Destroys Millions of Dollars of Tobacco

May Get Yours Any Day

The loss of tobacco by hail in this and other tobacco states within the last five years has run up into millions of dollars with only a small part covered by insurance. Yet, the amount of insurance received by growers who had the foresight thus to protect themselves against such loss, was enormous and should make every grower not only feel the necessity of insuring his tobacco crop against hail storms loss but to do that very thing and do it at once.

What Dr. Halley Says: Dr. Samuel H. Halley, of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, upon congratulating an insurance company on lowering its rates on tobacco hail insurance, said: "Within the period that I have had hail insurance I have had four severe losses. The money I received exceeded considerably what I paid in, to say nothing of my peace of mind that I was fully protected in case of a storm. I have always advocated carrying hail insurance on tobacco with which every grower takes a chance to lose all. With it he can, in safety, go into the business of producing a crop which requires, as does tobacco, so much labor, time and money."

Now that the Burley Growers have gone into an organization to handle their business in a modern economic business-like way, I see no reason why all growers can not take out insurance on the reduced rates the companies are now quoting." Look up the insurance agent in your section now, and let him protect you against the loss of your tobacco. Policies effective July 10th, noon.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE AT #### THE METHODIST CHURCH

NEXT SUNDAY

Next Sunday being near the fourth of July, there will be held a patriotic service in the Methodist Church at 11 a. m. Reserved seats for all ex-service men both old and young. The church will be decorated with American Flags and colors in keeping with the occasion. Good music by the orchestra and choir, patriotic songs. Everyone who has a flag that they will loan us for the occasion may be sure it will be appreciated, and will you please kindly phone the pastor before Friday morning. Everyone is cordially invited to come and worship with us and make this a great service not only in honor of our country, but in honor to our Christ as well.

T. T. FRAZIER, Pastor.

MATANZAS

June 26.—Farmers are progressing nicely with their crops. Corn in this section is growing nicely.

Meadows are ready to harvest.

Mr. Noel Brown made a flying trip over to Bowling Green, accompanied by Mr. Roscoe Massey, after his brother, Mr. Elvis Brown, and Mr. Martin Ashby, who have been attending the State Normal.

Mrs. Nat Lindley of Point Pleasant attended the Eastern Star entertainment at Centertown, last Saturday evening.

Mr. C. M. Swain and little daughter, Willie Pearl, of Centertown, Mrs. Charlotte Tichenor, Mrs. Condit and children, Mrs. H. B. Martin and daughter, Anna Belle, were guests of Mrs. Roscoe Massey, last Sunday evening.

Prof. Otis Wallace will teach our school this fall.

On Thursday, June 15th, Miss Kathleen Tichenor, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Tichenor, and Mr. Clyde Park, of Clear Run, motored over to Rockport, Ind., and were united in marriage. Their many friends wish them success and happiness. Mrs. Park will teach school this year.

Edwin Paul and Frank Martin were guests of their brother, Ernest Martin, at Bishop's Mines, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Tichenor with their children and families and guests motored over to the locks on Rough River, Sunday. All reported a nice outing.

Don't forget to register on the 10th or 11th of July, and last of all don't forget to vote.
